About the band and the album

Beingmoved is an Italian rock band born in 2017 as a solo project: Andrea Nocco writing songs on his guitar. One day he played these songs to his brother Edoardo and they started jamming together in their garage.

After a couple of acoustic gigs, they recorded the “My Everyday Pop Songs” EP, released in 2019. Simone and Samuele joined them playing drums and bass guitar. Beingmoved became then a rock band, playing around and they started thinking about a first album.

Before the end of the year they recorded drums in a small church over the hills of their hometown, overdubbing guitars and basses at Hill Studio Production, Edoardo’s studio. During the lockdown, Andrea recorded all the main vocals at his house, in Savona (Italy).

“Smiles and Bigger Hearts” was mastered in Hamburg by Fabian Tormin at Plätlin Mastering, an important studio that previously mastered albums by Kurt Vile, Lee Ranaldo (Sonic Youth), Biffy Clyro, The Kills, Unknown Mortal Orchestra and others.

“Smiles and Bigger Hearts” the debut album of the band will be released on November 20, 2020 in CD and all digital platforms.
